A luxury for many

Funds sought for children's dental program

But a program developed by the Health Care Center proposes to change that, at least for 72 of the neediest local children.

Sharon Anderson, outreach coordinator at the center, said an application has been made to the Association of Community Action Programs for funds to start a dental care program in the valley.

A budget of $35,000 is required to treat an estimated 90 people, twenty per cent of whom would be senior citizens and 80 per cent would be children up to the age of 18.

The proposal asks for $18,629 from ACAP. The remaining $16,555 must, by ACAP regulation, be "in-kind" funds from the local community.

Anderson said volunteer resources such as transportation, counseling and dentists' services at a reduced rate could account for the "in-kind" funds.

To qualify for the dental care, people must have no health insurance or medi-Cal to cover the work. They will be required to fill out a financial statement.

Anderson said recipients would be identified by screening at the Health Care Center and at local schools.

Geraldine Deck, coordinator of health services at Livermore schools, said recent dental inspections of the teeth of 100 students in each grade, kindergarten through 12, revealed some startling statistics.

"In some grades, from 33 to 50 per cent of the children examined were in need of dental care," said Deck.

She said the examinations were the first step in a fluoride rinse program funded through a Federal grant and the University of California San Francisco.

Deck, who worked closely with the Health Care Center in preparing the application for ACAP funds, said dental care is a luxury for many children.

"If families are on a close budget, emergency things have to come first," said Deck. "Money gets tight and families are forced to stop yearly dental checkups."

Deck said the lack of dental insurance also contributed to teeth neglect.

"Often times people don't know there's a problem until the pain starts. Parents can't identify dental problems, so they think dental care is something that can be put off," said Deck.

Under the Health Care Center proposal, dental care would be performed by five or six local dentists.

The Health Care Center would do all billing. Compensation would be prompt, but at a rate less than the going rate.

"We plan to pay more than medi-Cal would," said Anderson, "but we're counting on the reduced dentist rate as part of our 'in-kind' matching funds."

Anderson said a decision is due from ACAP in March.

She said she was not optimistic about being funded, noting only 11 per cent of ACAP's budget is earmarked for service programs. The rest is reserved for job-training programs.

But Anderson said there is one hopeful consideration. "ACAP feels people in the valley were shortchanged on the ACAP funds last year. They are going to make a special effort to fund valley programs this year."

If the program is funded, dental treatment will begin in September when ACAP monies are received.

Heritage tree to come down

PLEASANTON — The city council approved removal of a heritage tree near a proposed new downtown building last night.

The vote was three to one with Mayor Ed Kinney and councilmen Roger McLain and Robert Philcox voting for it, William Herlihy opposed and councilwoman Joyce LeClaire absent.

City staff supported removal of the Acacia tree, which is 16 inches in circumference. The tree is 25 years old and has a life expectancy of about five more years, said director of engineering services Don Sooby.

Acacia trees are "bad actors" around sidewalks and that is all the more reason the Acacia's lost won't be lamented, said Sooby.

Retaining the tree would mean changing plans for the site's proposed driveway, and alteration which would reduce the total number of parking spaces from 39 to 38, said applicant Chris Beratlis.

Locked gate law suit predicted

PLEASANTON — Alameda County Public Works Director Herb Crowle's suggestion to close Santos Ranch Road with a locked gate and abandon it as a county road could lead to a law suit against the county.

That was the prediction yesterday from Jim Gibbs, who sold his 90 acres on the Pleasanton Ridge, but who still is paying off a $20,000 bond assessment for the road.

Gibbs is interested in the fate of real estate on the ridge because of his bond payments. Gibbs was not a willing participant in the bond assessment district — the Santos Ranch wanted the road and it was a majority of the assessed evalaution which put over the project — but now that Gibbs has to pay he wants to keep the road open.

"The road went in on the premise it would bring beautiful homesites," said Gibbs. "But since the county put up a sign at the bottom of the road saying it is closed to the public, no lending institution will advance any money toward building a house on the road.

"There should not be a locked gate on the road. There should just be a sign that people should use it at their own risk. I used it three or four times a day and I never had any trouble with it. Thousands of people use it every year. They go up there to see the view."

One person was killed and several injured in an auto accident not long after the road opened. In response, the county "closed the road to the public" by installing a warning sign at the bottom, but the sign has not discouraged some of the public from climbing the road.

Part of the pressure for a locked gate comes from two ridgelands property owners who are troubled by trespassers on their land. Tom Pishos and a business partner, Sheldon Berz, bought their homes from Michael Leibert and Gibbs in a joint transaction.

Pishos has been bothered by theft and vandalism. He feels a locked gate at the bottom of the hill would give him better security.

Pishos and Berz also have also been annoyed by some hang gliding enthusiasts who use neighboring private property as a take-off area. Apparently ignorant that a gate at the top of the road controls the access to Pishos property, some hang gliding fans have parked their cars directly in front of the gate, making it difficult for the Pishos family to come and go. The situation could be controlled better if there were a locked gate at the bottom of the hill, said Pishos.

Pishos wants to talk to the county counsel's office before taking a stand on the county's proposal to abandon the road.

Jessie Cambra, head of the county's road department, said that locking off the road would almost dictate abandonment of the road because it would be hard to justify use of state gas tax revenues to maintain what essentially would become a private road.

Although the road is a wide one, the property owners probably would not assume a big maintenance burden because it is paved and has good drainage, said Cambra. The roads surface would last much longer than a similar road surfaced in dirt or gravel, she said.

Brueners moves to San Ramon

SAN RAMON — Breuners, the home furnishings company, is moving its administrative headquarters from Oakland to San Ramon in mid-year.

John Breuner Company announced last week it had acquired a 75,000 square foot office building on Fostoria Way off Crow Canyon Road.

Following completion of a $350,000 remodeling program, Breuners' new facility will include all administrative functions, buying, advertising, personnel administration, and computerized accounting functions.

No sales or warehousing will be located in San Ramon.

The attractively landscaped, two-story concrete building will provide modern and efficient housing for its administrative staff. Approximately 250 employees will work at the facility.

The San Ramon site is centrally located among the company's 12 stores in Northern California and Reno.

The San Ramon structure, a spokesman for Breuners noted, is located on major transportation routes. Attractive homes are available nearby for Breuner employees. Oakland store operations and the functions of the Emeryville warehouse will be transferred to a new Breuners Wayside store in Richmond this spring.

The San Ramon property was acquired by Breuners in exchange for its Emeryville warehouse, to be vacated upon the opening of the new Richmond store.

The building, erected in 1961 as an office building by Aerojet-General Corporation, cost more than $1,000,000. It can be expanded easily to accommodate anticipated growth.

The move is subject to approval by the Contra Costa Planning Commission.

Budget study tops school meeting list

Review of the 1976-77 study budget heads a lengthy Amador Valley Joint High School District board meeting slated tonight at 8 in the Foothill High School library.

Trustees will also look over a program compliance review for Title I, a summary of the visit to the Amador district of a monitor and review team from the State Department of Education.

The California Proficiency Examination, which was administered to 98 16 and 17-year olds last month at Amador Valley High, will also be reported on. Those passing the test will be notified about Feb. 1 if they passed. Those passing, and then gaining approval of a parent, will be able to leave high school immediately with a "certificate of proficiency," legally equivalent to a high school diploma.

Board members will also act on acceptance of Regional Occupational Program buildings at Livermore High School, revise a lease agreement with respect to these buildings, hear building reports, act to authorize bids for football equipment and supplies and auto shop equipment, consider supporting Assembly Bill 2009 and learn more on the second year of the "Closeup" program. The latter permits sophomores and juniors at valley high schools to spend a week in Washington, D.C., to observe the inner workings of government.

The Title I program compliance review was conducted in the district by a monitor and review team on Dec. 19.

Purpose of the review was to determine that both the district and the target school, Dublin High, are in compliance with federal and state regulations as they pertain to ESEA, Title I, and Title II, Phase 1.

According to Dr. David Carlisle, district director of research and development, the summaries show the district and Dublin High "generally in compliance."

Two facets reviewed by the State Department of Education team were found not to be in compliance — one at the district level and the other at the school.

The state team found that not enough parents of Title I students were represented on the school advisory committee.

Reason for the problem occuring, according to Carlisle, can be traced to the fact the high school, given the limited funding under which it operates (about $16,000 for 40 pupils), cannot provide Title I services beyond the ninth grade level.

As a result, continuity cannot be maintained by the advisory committee from one year to the next, and the committee must be reformed each fall once Title I students have been identified.

MTA opposes handling of plan

DUBLIN — The Murray Teacher's Association has expressed "concern" over the district handling of a proposal to create new resource teacher positions in K-6 schools.

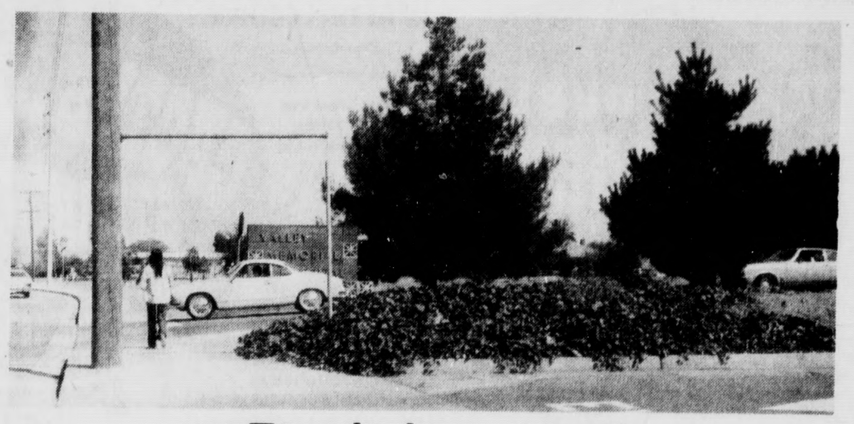
The letter to the Murray District Board from MTA President Joyce Spreyer went without any action at last night's board meeting.

The MTA letter objected to the time table for implementation, reportedly from Nov. 21, 1975 to a ready date of Jan. 5, 1976; time of teacher input, supposedly after the initial outline of the plan and the time table had been established, and, allegedly, no discussion of the plan by trustees in open session.

Spreyer commented, "Before approving a program costing $40,000, you board members have an obligation to air the plan thoroughly in public session and give voters, employes and other interested parties an opportunity to express their views."

The MTA President then requested the district delay commencing the resource teacher plan at least until the start of the second semester.

In other action, the board received a favorable progress report from architect James Aitken of the Dolan School site in Silvergate, and gave first reading to a revised kindergarten policy.



Find the sign?

Can you find the Valley Memorial Hospital entrance sign in this picture? Well, nobody else can either, especially while clipping around the curve where East Stanley Boulevard becomes First Street, Livermore. So the hospital board has voted to replace the tasteful but invisible brick-and-steel sign with a $2,350 plastic light-up sign that's up to government standards. White letters on brown ground will announce emergency service and doctor available 24 hours. The sign will be mounted over the brick tombstone-style monument shown here and in addition, a lighted "exit" sign will show visitors how to get out of the labyrinthine parking lot.

Mori forms local educational advisory board

PLEASANTON — Assemblyman Floyd Mori's voting on educational matters will be influenced by 21 local residents who will be advising him regularly.

On Thursday, Mori will be meeting for the first time with an advisory board made up of a range of teachers, administrators, students, school board members and parents to get "local feedback" on current education issues. The opening meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Pleasanton library.

"I felt that since I'm a member of the Assembly Education Committee I should devise a means of reporting directly to the community and receiving local feedback," said the freshman Assemblyman.

Meetings will be held once a month. Best-known members of the new advisory board are four school board members: Betty Nostrand of Pleasanton, Wallace Decker of Amador, Dr. James McFarlane of Livermore and Dr. Ted Woy of Murray.

Administrators include Vince Anaclerio, Donlon vice principal in Dublin; Ralph Laird, Amador High principal, Pleasanton; Leo Croce, Livermore superintendent of schools; George Bury, Sunol Glen superintendent of schools; and Bruce Newlin, Amador and Pleasanton Elementary superintendent of schools.

Teachers on the committee include Chuck Hazen of Rincon Elementary School, Livermore; Claudia Armstrong of Walnut Grove Elementary, Pleasanton; Gary Fiorio, Murray Elementary teacher; Betty Kane of Granada High, Livermore; and Don Rathjen of Pleasanton.

Parents on the committee include Myra Latkin and Lamyrl Sandholtz of Livermore; Brenda Nicholson and Gayle Malfatti of Dublin; and Gene Hinton, Murray school board candidate in Dublin.

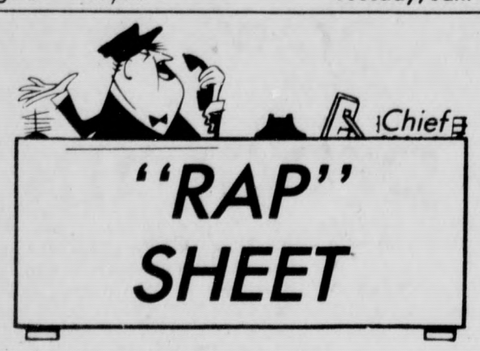
Students are Jim Cross of Livermore and Karen Knowles.

A second committee will be at work in Hayward beginning in February.

"We're not sure just what direction the committee will take," Mori said. "I will of course be reporting on legislative and Assembly Education Committee actions, and expect to receive comments and suggestions from the members. In addition, I will arrange for speakers and special presentations.

"The two groups may even find themselves composing the framework for legislation.

"I believe these committees are going to play an active role in providing me with much-needed information and suggestions. This is important if local communities are going to have a voice in the development of their educational systems."



Valuables worth $800 taken from residence

LIVERMORE — More than $800 in guns, cash, jewelry and other valuables were stolen from a mobile home on Sundial Avenue Friday.

Police discovered that James Robert Kualman's home had been entered via a bedroom window which thieves apparently smashed with a garden hose. Kualman said burglars had taken three handguns, a reserve parachute, and a black and white television all valued at $822.

Thieves also took approximately $200 in cash and several pieces of antique jewelry and old coins on which no monetary value could be placed.

Police found fingerprint smudges in the bedroom and kitchen, and footprints outside the broken window. There are no suspects at this time.

Marijuana and LSD reportedly uncovered

LIVERMORE — A Concord man was arrested Sunday when a routine traffic stop uncovered a baggie of suspected marijuana and 31 tabs of what appeared to be LSD in his possession.

Conley Eugene Kincheloe, 24, was pulled over on Interstate 580 near Airway on a routine traffic stop. Police reportedly noticed an odor of liquor on his breath and searched the car for an open container of alcohol.

Police found a quarter-full beer can in the back seat and a baggie of suspected marijuana under the front seat. While the search was on-going, Kincheloe complained of the cold and asked for a shirt. A passenger in the car handed him a shirt, from which fell a candy box allegedly containing 31 tabs of LSD.

Kincheloe was booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana, LSD, possession of LSD for sale, and an outstanding warrant.

Berkeley man arrested driving stolen car

LIVERMORE — A Berkeley man, swerving erratically on Interstate 580 for several miles while police tried to pull him over, was found to be driving a stolen car, police said yesterday.

Robert Gonzales Ramirez, 29, of Berkeley, was pulled over and found to have a "noticeable odor" of an alcoholic beverage on his breath. Ramirez failed a field sobriety test and refused to have a blood sample taken.

The car he was driving, a 1962 Ford, was reported stolen out of Oakland earlier. Ramirez was booked on suspicion of drunk driving and grand theft auto.

Two color TV's taken from Alameda Avenue apartment

LIVERMORE — Two color televisions valued at $820 were stolen from an Alameda Avenue apartment Friday, police said yesterday.

Ronald Archulter told police he stopped at his parents house and noticed the front and back doors open and a television missing from the family room. He locked up the residence and left.

Delfin Archulter, Ronald's father, returned home later and found the back door open once more, and discovered the family's other TV had been taken.

There are no suspects.

Man wounded after cleaning gun

LIVERMORE — Gary Leroy Stearman, 39, of Heather Lane, sustained wounds in both legs when the .32-caliber pistol he was claeaning fell to the floor and discharged Sunday.

Stearman told police he had just finished cleaning his gun and had placed the weapon in his waistband. When he bent down, the gun fell to the floor and discharged, sending a bullet through both legs.

Police later said the weapon was "very poorly made" and could easily be discharged by dropping. There was no report on his condition.

Two parks employes promoted

Two local East Bay Regional Parks employes have won big promotions.

They are Walter Knight, 61, of Livermore, supervisor of Shadow Cliffs Regional Park, Pleasanton; and Anthony Smith, 36, who lives at and supervises Del Valle Regional Park, Livermore.

Both are moving as of Jan. 16 into newly created positions as Zone Managers. They will continue to supervise one park in person and will also supervise the heads of other parks in their zones.

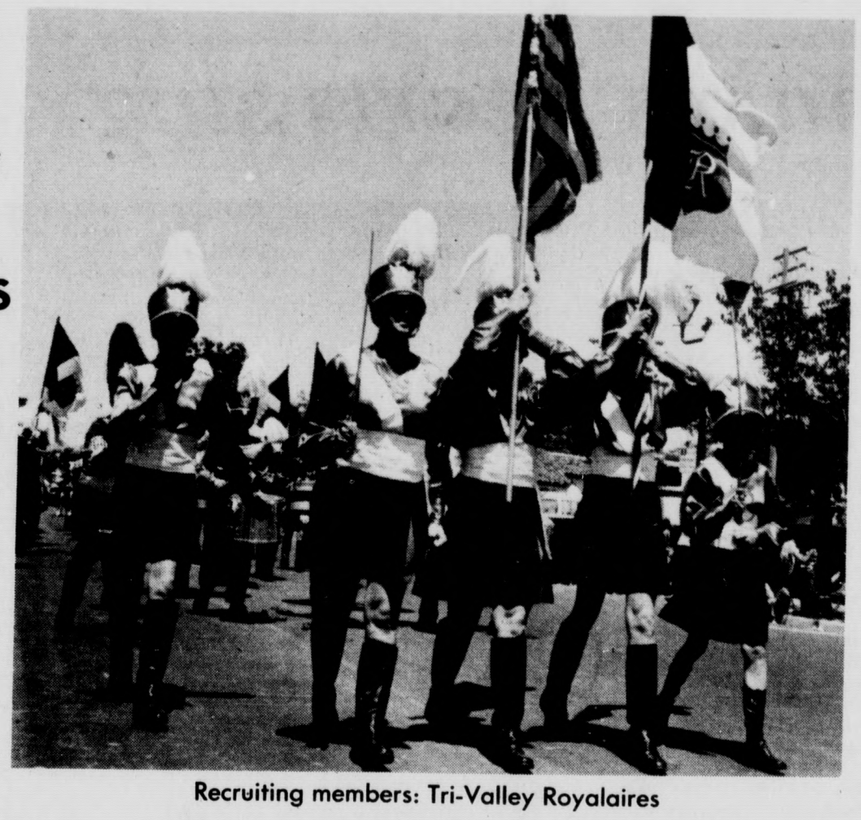
The job pays $15,083 to $18,333 a year.

In all, EBRPD created four Zome Manager positions. The other two are filled by Wallace Cromwell, 37, of Fremont, and David Eakin, 33, of Pleasant Hill.

Knight has been with the park district 10 years, Smith, 13.

Competition for the jobs was "extremely keen from outside" the district, according to district general manager Richard Trudeau.

He told the Board of Directors selection of the four new managers from within EBRPD ranks "speaks well for the quality of our own employes."



Recruiting members: Tri-Valley Royalaires

Royalaires want members

LIVERMORE — The Tri-Valley Royalaires, after a very successful first season this past year, are looking for new members for the 1976 season.

Last year, the Royalaires had a winning season. In Drum Corps West competition at Diablo Valley College, they took third place in overall performance and first in marching and maneuvering. In a state contest at Santa Clara they placed fourth in their division. During a Columbus Day parade and also at the San Francisco Admission Day parade the corps took two firsts.

They also won a first at the Pleasanton Fair parade, at the Vallejo Fourth of July event and at Veterans Day in Albany. At Placerville and Stockton the corps won second place.

The corps provides busing, uniforms and instruments for all members, who in turn are expected to help with fundraisers throughout the year.

The drum and bugle corps needs students between 12 and 20 who are interested in drums, bugles or flag line positions.

Anyone interested is invited to attend a practice session any Thursday, 7-9 p.m. in the Granada High School music rooms.

For further information, prospective members may call Royalaires Booster Club members Frank Merkle (443-2759) or Dorothy Van Brackle (846-4318.)

Concerns committee supports expansion

PLEASANTON — The city's Community Concerns Committee unanimously stands behind the staff's proposal to expand the CCC to a Human Services Commission.

Three of the five committee members reviewed the proposal again last week. Member Phil Cooper was absent. Although he had expressed reservations in the press about the change last summer, he now favors it, reported Chairman Sam Roberson.

"In view of the press publicity for Cooper's earlier opposition, it's important that the city council realize Cooper has changed his position," said Roberson.

Cooper's earlier opposition stemmed from his belief that the CCC would be changed from an independent committee to one working closely within city government and therefore unable to criticize it. The new commission in fact will be assimilated into city government, if the council approves, but Cooper now feels the change is worthwhile if it enables the committee to ccomplish more.

The city council will discuss the proposed restructuring at its meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the justice court.

Rustic park district altar proves popular

lifestyle

According to Tennyson, "Marriages are made in heaven," but in the words of East Bay Regional Park District Controller Ralph Meilandt, outdoor weddings in the regional parks can best be described as "Ah, bliss!"

That was his sprightly remark in a financial statement which underlined the fact that revenues from outdoor weddings were far ahead of predictions.

Estimated 12-month revenue from weddings, which Shakespeare defined as "world without end bargains," was $550. But by October the actual figure stood at $750, according to Meilandt.

Director Fred Blumberg of EBRPD suggested a year ago that perhaps outdoor wedding chapels should be constructed in the sylvan glades.

Meilandt, an avid promoter of the park district's wedding amenities says he endorses all billing, cooing, wooing and amours which may lead to some rustic park district altar.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You may be talkative today, and say more than you should to the wrong set of ears. Weigh your words.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You manage your resources rather well early in the day. As the afternoon wears on you may grow a trifle extravagant.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) For best results today, don't attempt more than you can competently handle. Try to devote your energies to your priorities.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be careful today not to create unnecessary problems for yourself. Plan wisely. Avoid frustrations.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Don't make too late a night of it if you're out on the town with friends this evening. Tomorrow's a work day!

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) In your eagerness to accomplish what you set out to do today you may unthinkingly tread on a few toes. Watch your image!

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) It's wise to take advice offered by others into consideration, but today you may be overly influenced by unsound suggestions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be careful today not to be drawn too deeply into a complicated situation that's not of your making. Stay on the sidelines.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Be extra diplomatic in dealing with close associates today, even though their actions could provoke you to do otherwise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Pace yourself sensibly today or you may take on more burdens than you can manage. Try to find a helper.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Give all types of risky ventures a wide berth today. Play everything on the safe side. Don't expect something for nothing.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You may find it very difficult to please certain members of your family today, no matter how hard you try. Do so anyway.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

You don't have to use a convention if you don't want to. Hence, North decided to just bid three notrump instead of trying to find a 4-4 spade fit.

Sixteen opposite 10 just adds to 26 and since both North and South had 4-3-3-3 distribution, they could expect the play for game to be a tough one.

East won the heart lead, decided that his partner had led the top of nothing, so East shifted to the deuce of clubs. West's queen was allowed to hold the trick. Clubs were continued and this time South won with his ace.

South led the queen of diamonds. If West had let it hold, the chances are that South would have gone set. But West took his ace in order to clear the clubs.

Now South could count to eight tricks. One spade, three hearts, two diamonds and two clubs. He needed the spade finesse to get to nine. It lost. But since East held the last club, the defense couldn't score their fifth trick.

Ask the Jacobys

A Carolina reader wants to know if we consider any three card club suit as properly biddable.

The answer is that with certain hands such as ♠ A x x x ♥ K x x x ♦ A K ♣ x x x we definitely open one club because our hand is too strong to pass and we don't open weak four-card majors.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

Pats pound Spitfires,

The Livermore Patriots opened the Commissioner's Cup Soccer Tournament last weekend by blasting the San Ramon Spitfires, 6-0, in under-12 action.

The winners scored four times in the first half to put the game out of reach.

Steve Garcia scored two goals for the Pats, both in the second half. Chris Sansone, Steve Collins, Derek Mendonca and Frank Bamford also scored. Mendonca's was a beautiful head shot from a feed headed by Garcia.

The Royal Crusaders tripped the Dublin Cobras in an under-10 match, 2-0. Wally Hunter, Sean Alexander and Sean Pardue paced the outstanding Crusader defense. Craig Huft and Don Boginni scored goals. Neal Abramhamson and Craig Huft assisted.

Parents pressing EBAL

The EBAL's first attempt at athletic economy may be rendered inoperative this morning. Three freshman sports will be restored for next school year if a confederation of parents groups has its way.

Protesting parents will carry their plea to the league's board of managers, asking reinstatement for frosh football, basketball and baseball, trimmed last December in the midst of school financial crisis.

The abandoned sports have already been restored by the Livermore Unified School District. Parents groups in Livermore and PLeasanton want to extend reinstatement throughout the league.

Livermore school chief Leo Croce has asked the EBAL to reconsider its December dictum. Athletic directors at the eight member high schools have formulated alternative economy measures to rescue frosh sports.

It will be difficult for the league board to ignore mounting support for freshman athletics.

But on the other hand, the board must answer to school superintendents in Livermore, Pleasanton and Danville, all clamoring for sports economy.

Undoubtedly it will be the key issue at this morning's EBAL board meeting at 9 a.m. in the Amador School District offices on Main St.

On hand will be Bill Robison, the ring leader of a Livermore group that pushed frosh restoration through the school board last Tuesday night. Robison's committee gathered 1,000 signatures on a petition that requested full EBAL reinstatement for freshman teams.

"There aren't a lot of things for ninth graders to hang their hats on when they first come to high school," Robison said. "Sports is one of the few, not just for the players, but for the whole class."

The same day Livermore parents won their battle with the school board, Pleasanton parents engineered their own protest to the budget trimming. The Amador Valley High School Boosters Club fired off a letter to all EBAL principals, and to the school superintendents, detailing their opposition.

The boosters asked for restoration, and a search for other, "less objectionable" cuts in the athletic program.

Ironically, when EBAL managers first contemplated a budget trim, they went on record demanding community voice in the process.

Parents and boosters have had no influence on the economy drive, however, until after the first cutback was made.

But now, they're getting in their two cents worth, just as the league had insisted.

Knaves nail Knights, 1-0

Goalkeeper Richard Jones turned back five shots at the net to insure the Knaves' 1-0 win over the Knights in an under-19 match of the Ballistic Soccer Club's City Tournament last weekend.

Al Wesir scored the only goal on Bill Sullivant's assist.

The Kings rocked the Keys, 8-1, with Frank Belline scoring three goals. Others went to Tim Heinzel, Russ Watson, Tom Northam, Jim Bell and Greg Doherty. Scott Perry had five saves.

Vampire Jim Dalton recorded 10 saves as the Vampires topped the Vikings, 2-0. Troy Jones and Rick Fountain scored.

The Vulcans' Dave Hohl had 10 saves in a 1-0 win over the Tormentors. Jerry Hollister scored, and Tracy Walker assisted.

Trojan Randy McNatt scored twice in a 2-1 win over the Titanics. Pat Moyer had the Titanic score. For the winners, Keith Petty, Kevin Coburn and Peter Van Buren played good defense.

Six percent raise

Principals get boost

LIVERMORE — Livermore Unified School District principals are making $18,000 to almost $29,000 a year with the 6 per cent raises to which the school board has just agreed.

In addition to the raises, the school board agreed to give principals credit for up to 75 college units, as they do teachers. Previously, administrators were entitled to extra pay for earning only up to 60 units of college credit.

Principals, vice principals, deans and coordinators — but not top district-level leadership such as the superintendent of schools and assistant superintendents — won their raises Wednesday night when the school board met in closed session to consider the negotiations. They had already granted similar raises to teachers and classified employes.

Administrators will also be getting the same health and dental benefits as other school employes.

The district-office coordinators, Ardis Loonie, in charge of special education, and Fred Sherwyn, quarter-time public information officer and three - quarters - time vocational education coordinator, are both making some $23,380 a year on the new schedule.

High-school principals are drawing: Jack Lee, Granada HS, $28,711; Paul Reginato, Livermore Hs, $27,757; Paul Sengo, Del Valle Continuation School, $23,913.

Evening school chief Jim McCarty will be making $27,647. Junior high principals' salaries are: Bob Dougherty of Mendenhall, $26,049; Dennis Hill of Junction, $24,448; Charles Lindemann of East Avenue, $26,155.

According to finance chief Bruce Jamieson, exact amounts will not be available until next month, because the administrators' college credits have to be added in some cases.

Herb Nobriga

He's where action is

PLEASANTON — Herbert Nobriga is "where the action is."

The 35-year-old former Pleasanton lawyer, who worked with the law firm of Gale and Amaral from December 1966 to April 1969, is now full-time head of a state agency, the Office of Administrative Hearings in Sacramento.

"It doesn't have the diverse cultural opportunities you find in the Bay Area," Nobriga says of Sacramento, where he has spent the past six years.

"But in terms of government, this is where the action is."

Raised in the Bay Area, Nobriga lived on Highland Oaks Drive while a Pleasanton resident. He was a director of the Homeowners Association, a member of the Jaycees and Chamber of Commerce, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission, and attorney for Castlewood Country Club, the Baptist Church and other groups.

Before being appointed to the Office of Administrative Hearings by Governor Edmund G. Brown, Nobriga was legislative representative from the state bar of California. Last fall, he served for three months on the governor's task force for the Agricultural Labor Relations Board.

In his new position, Nobriga heads an agency that sets up hearings in lawsuits between citizens and bureaucracies — "typically, licensing disputes," he explains. It is his agency's job to provide a hearing officer, court reporter and a place to hold the hearing. The bill goes to the bureaucracy involved in the suit.

Nobriga spent yesterday at the Governor's annual Prayer Breakfast, followed by a morning of budget briefings.

He says he has no definite goals about his career but is not currently practicing law.

He and his wife, Anne, live in Sacramento with their sons, Justin, 8, and Matthew, 12.

BART holds back $3 mil

By Justin Roberts
Times Staff Reporter

The Bay Area Rapid Transit District has withheld a $3 million payment from its passenger car supplier, Rohr industries of Chula Vista, because of severe technical problems with the cars.

BART General Manager Frank C. Herringer declared Friday, "I couldn't justify paying them the money. In our suit against Rohr and other major contractors, we say that Rohr Industries owes us $85 million. How can we pay them $3 million when we say they owe us $85 million?"

The payment scheduled for Rohr Industries, which built 450 cars for BART, was originally set at $3,910,541 under escalation agreements in BART's contract for its last 100 cars built by the Chula Vista firm.

The billing was sent to BART last Sept. 23 shortly after Rohr delivered the last of the cars for the district. However, BART declined to pay the entire amount under the escalation agreement and $810,149 was deducted.

According to Herringer, Rohr had still been expecting a total of $5 million from BART — including the $3.1 million he withheld. The balance of some $2 million was scheduled to fall due later this year.

Herringer's action reportedly came about because of the added expenses BART has been put to in attempting to make the cars reliable and safe in operation, due to brake failures, unscheduled door openings and control problems.

Herringer testified before the State Senate's Public Utilities, Transit and Energy Committee in Sacramento Tuesday that BART still faces the problem of having half the Rohr cars on hand out of service because of mechanical and electronic problems.

Herringer's decision to "hang tough" on future payments to Rohr sparked a letter from Rohr's president Fred W. Garry in which he threatened to suspend warranty obligations.

The Chula Vista firm, which Herringer says lost $22 million in the last quarter of 1975, is in financial difficulties, according to recent press reports.

The Washington, D.C. Metro which, like BART, is running late on inaugurating service, has also reported severe problems with Rohr cars designed and built for the mass transit project in the nation's capital.

In another letter to Herringer, Rohr attorney Allan J. Joseph confirmed Rohr's plight when he said in part "...the non-availability of the funds will cause Rohr to incur increased borrowings."

But, Robert Raven, another San Francisco attorney who is representing BART in its $237.7 million suit against Rohr, Westinghouse Electric Co., Parsons-Brinckerhoff-Tudor and Bechtel, and the Bulova Watch Co., responded with a warning to Rohr's attorneys that the BART district has met its obligations under terms of its contract and that refusal to pay was occasioned by "breaches of that contract."

Raven also warned that if Rohr executes its threat to suspend its remaining contractual obligations, it would constitute further losses to BART because of even more lost revenue and increased maintenance costs.

Herringer indicated that the remaining $2 million would probably be withheld until settlement of the suit which was filed in 1974. The suit is currently snarled in a change of venue proceeding in the state Supreme Court initiated by Rohr. The firm is attempting to move the trial out of Alameda County courts.

Skateboard safety challenge

PLEASANTON — The skateboard craze has at least one motorist upset about the safety of the young people who ride them.

Mary Jane Belding told The Times yesterday she has had several close calls with youngsters on the flexible boards. One incident occurred in the parking lot of Walnut Grove School, another on Valley Avenue.

The youngster in the school parking lot did an "S" curve around Belding's car which frightened her, but he only laughed, she said.

On Valley Avenue, youngsters ride their skateboards in the street. One day a youth cut right in front of her, then pulled away. She felt if she hadn't been able to stop in time, the youngster may have been injured.

Belding said she read about the death of one youngster in a big city and she is afraid that a youth will be hurt or killed in Pleasanton before the situation is brought under control.

"I called the police department and they took down my name. They said that others have called and talked about it, too," said Belding.

No one was available to comment officially late yesterday at the police department. The department's telephone operator said that a few parents have called to register a complaint about the problem.

The city recreation department is investigating the possibility of finding an area where skateboard tournaments can be held, Recreation Director Robert Caporusso said yesterday.

But the area would be just for special programs for the skateboarders. It won't provide a daily outlet for the juveniles, he said.

The city has many safe places for skateboarding and it is not necessary for youths to take unnecessary chances in traffic, said Caporusso. Many school playgrounds have safe, asphalt areas, for example, basketball court areas, which are good for skateboarding, he said.

Crackdown due

Looking for a place to get rid of your old victrola? Well, the East Bay Regional Park District would prefer you didn't drop it in their garbage cans. Park district public safety officers are getting "mighty tired of garbage free-loaders who fill 50-gallon drums along Alameda's Robert Crown Memorial State Beach with household swill, cat droppings, crank case drainings, old paint cans and paint rollers." The district will begin an immediate crackdown on violators. Warnings will be issued for first offenders. Those caught dumping old couches, garage doors and car parts on the beach will be cited for violation of Penal Code Section 849, dealing with illegal dumping of garbage and litter.

Handwriting may be on wall

Is state school fund pinch due?

Valley school superintendents and their respective boards of trustees may have gotten "the hand writing on the wall" message from Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Jr., yesterday.

Expanding on comments made Wednesday in his state-of-the-state address, Brown said he is "very reluctant" to give public schools much more state money this coming year. "I will do everything I can to prevent any increase in state taxes to support local schools."

According to an Associated Press report, Brown said he had reservations last year about adding $88 million to the state's $2.5 billion local schools budget because that amount only met inflationary costs and made no attempt to reform schools.

"I will still be very reluctant," continued Brown during an impromptu press conference, "and in fact will work against the casual and excessive additional spending for schools, because they have to compete with all the other programs. Sometimes I think a very good reform is not to give people everything they want, because often necessity is the mother of invention," Brown added.

He said last year that reform of school finance was a high priority, and that California's public schools are not doing a good job.

"Where things become more difficult, people often become more creative. Just to pump in more money often encourages the same bad habits we want to reform," he said.

Brown said he has not abandoned plans for an educational reform proposal.

But, he said in response to questions about public school finance, "I'm not prepared to put forth anything yet. You're not going to get a magic solution popped out of the black box in the next few weeks.
